Course Description:

Course will cover the period of 1600 to the 1980's and will focus on the making of the modern world. Inter-locking themes will include the discovery of the New World and the rise of Capitalism, the resistance to this new economic system by the non-white world, the spread of Imperialism and the division of the world in the "core" (industrial) and "peripheral" (non-industrial) nations of the First and Third World. National revolution and rebellion especially in the 20th century will be examined as well as the "end of the Third World" and the rise of the Pacific Rim as a model of national and economic development.

Textbook:

Pollard, Elizabeth, et al. Worlds Together, Worlds Apart, Volume 2, from 1000 CE to the Present. Concise second edition. 2019.

Availability:

We can communicate before and after the class meets, or via email. When you email me, please let me know your class number, 104. This way I can know which file to open up to look up any information you are requesting. I usually don't respond to requests for information contained in the syllabus.

Withdrawal Policy:

All AVUSD & AVHS attendance policies applicable will be in effect. Excessive absences (at any time in the semester) can result in the student being dropped. If you are going to be absent from class for two or more class periods in a row, please email me beforehand. Students who arrive tardy should confirm their attendance at the end of that class period with the instructor.

Student Learning Outcomes:

Upon completion of the course the student can:

- (1) Analyze European mercantile and colonial expansion in the period 1500-1800 and evaluate its impacts on Asian, African and American indigenous people, societies and states, using primary and secondary source material and reflecting issues of ecology, race, gender, class and ethnicity to reflect unique belief systems, discoveries, inventions and scientific achievements.
- (2) Evaluate the historical relationship between political modernization, industrialism, imperialism and underdevelopment in the period 1700-1914, using primary and secondary source material and reflecting issues of ecology, race, gender class and ethnicity to reflect unique belief systems, discoveries, inventions and scientific achievements.
- (3) Assess the history of the 20th century in terms of the struggle for independence and national self-determination Asian, African, Latin American and Middle Eastern societies and states, using primary and secondary source material and reflecting issues of ecology, race, gender class and ethnicity to reflect unique belief systems, discoveries, inventions and scientific achievements.

Grading:

Overall grades will be allotted according to the following minimum percentage scale:

A	90%
B	80%
C	70%
D	60%
F	below 60%

Class assignments have the following weight:

Exams	40% (20% each for the midterm and final)
Essays	40% (20% each for the first essay and second essay)
Participation	15%
Essay outline	5%

PENS NEEDED FOR WORK WRITTEN BY HAND: Written work (exams, reflections, and the essay outline assignment if it is not printed from a computer) needs to be done in pen (blue or black ink; no light colors allowed). Work not written in pen will be returned to the student, for them to copy it out in pen, before being graded for credit.

Exams

The two exams are both written, usually a mixture of short and long responses. Long responses (one- or two-pages in length) are at least 80% of the exam grade. Although page length is a guide, when I ask for one or two page responses, I am talking about the usual 8.5x11 inch pages (if you are using the smaller blue books, you should double the number of pages that you write out). Usually, the final will cover only the material since the midterm. On the exams, I will not be grading your spelling, punctuation, or paragraph or essay structure, so much as the ideas you are expressing (obviously your spelling and writing has to be clear enough to be understood by me—I don't give credit for what I cannot understand).

On the exams, if you answer more than the requested number of questions, be sure to cross out the ones you don't want me to grade; if that isn't indicated, I will determine which responses are read and scored.

When writing out the exam questions, write out the short answer terms and underline them; for the long responses, simply give the number of the question and circle it. This will be made clear in the instructions for the exam. Any student that correctly does this for ALL short and long responses will be given one additional (percentage) point for that exam.

No electronic media are allowed at all during tests; all books and papers will need to be placed below the desk. If a student is caught looking at printed materials, or on another student's exam, their test will be given an automatic zero, regardless of whether they choose to continue taking that test or not. Once I pass out the midterm or final, students must remain in the room to take it. If or when they leave (to answer a cell phone, go to the bathroom, or for any other reason) the test is considered finished and must be turned in to the teacher. Such students will not be allowed to make up the exam at a later point.

Blue Books

You need to bring a Blue Book to class for both the midterm and final (8.5 x 11 inch size recommended—a few students have filled up more than one of the small Blue Books). Page length recommendations for exam responses are calculated in terms of the 8.5 x 11 inch blue books. NO EXAM RESPONSES WRITTEN IN ANYTHING OTHER THAN A BLUE BOOK THAT HAS BEEN APPROVED BY ME PRIOR TO BEING WRITTEN IN, WILL BE ACCEPTED. If you would like you use one blue book for both the midterm and the final, you can---just make sure there is enough room in that blue book, to write out all of your responses (or bring in a backup blue book to the final exam).

Essays

There will be two essays assigned during the semester. Both essays need to be 1600 words (roughly five pages) long. A recommended division of the essay is a half-page introduction, a four-page body, and a half-page conclusion. Essays need to be typed in 12-point type and double-spaced (so that they are easy to read); don't use decorative or script fonts. You do not have to use direct quotations, but if you do, direct or indirect quotations in excess of 200 words will not be applied to the 1600 word count.

Essays are an excellent way to learn more about a topic that you are personally interested in. Additionally, essay writing develops your critical thinking skills—you learn to discern what points and issues will support your main thesis, as well as (possibly) examine different explanations, and decide which is most valid. Finally, the reading and writing involved in these essays will help develop these same skills, which the vast majority of you will put to use as you advance in college and work, as well as in becoming an informed citizen.

The essays are research essays—assignments whereby you research your topic, and combine the information you have gleaned, with your own opinions and conclusions. As such, essays written essentially of your own opinions or beliefs will be severely downgraded. The idea here is to develop research skills, including not only reading, but also the assimilating different bits of information and viewpoints. If you simply write five pages on everything you already know about your topic, you don't develop those skills.

What to write about

The essays need to cover a person that lived, or a specific event that occurred, within the content area and time frame of this class: world history from 1500 to the present time (except for US historical topics). Keep in mind that even though we might go outside of these boundaries in class lectures and readings, you will still need to observe these parameters for your two essays.

The subject of the essay has to be either a person, or a specific event. When students write on broader topics, they typically lose focus and the essay wanders all over the place. The emphasis on specific people and events eliminates myths and legendary characters as subjects of your essays.

If you are in any way unsure as to whether your topic fits these parameters, ask the instructor.

If you choose to write an essay on a topic covered in class, make sure that your essay goes well beyond what was covered in class; essays that simply repeat classroom lectures or readings will be downgraded to the degree that this happens.

Format

I will require both 5-page essays to be turned in digitally. I will inform the class of the platform (email, Google classroom, etc. later on). For the purposes of keeping everything organized, I will NOT accept a hard copy of the essay. The day it is submitted digitally to me is the day it is turned in. Put your name ONLY on the first page (the cover page) of the essay. Do not put your first or last name on any other part of the essay, including page numbers. Points will be deducted if any part of your name is displayed on any other page. If you aren't sure how to get this done, I do have a template for your essay that you can use, on my website (paulrittman.com/history). You do not have to use this template, but it is there if you would like to use it.

Both 5-page essays will be given one additional percentage point if they have the student's first and last name in the file name (other words are acceptable but not needed; just be sure to have your first and last name), for example: PaulRittman.rtf. Documents can be renamed by using the context (right-click) menu and selecting the Rename option, or by opening up the document and using the Save As or Rename command.

One of the reasons for insisting on a digital copy is for catching plagiarism. I will accept digital copies in one of the following formats: Word (.doc or .docx), Rich Text Format (.rtf), or OpenOffice (.odt). Essays not in one of those formats will have the grade penalized. DO NOT SUBMIT A FILE IN THE PDF FORMAT.

As research essays, they need to reference IN THE TEXT OF THE ESSAY ITSELF at least 3 different books or articles, in MLA format. Place your full citations on their own page, at the end of your essay (in the same document)—do not create a new document for your works cited. Essays that place the works cited on a separate document will be penalized. These three sources are not to include class handouts, notes, the textbook, or Wikipedia (or any of its derivative websites).

If students are unaware of the MLA format, they can go to a page on my history site, and scroll down to a section that is entitled “Classroom Handouts.” You can visit a link listed there that explains the MLA format—at the Purdue OWL site. It also has a sample essay written in MLA format, so you can see exactly what you are being asked to do.

Essays written before this semester started, or submitted to other classes, are not acceptable.

Essay Outline

The Essay Outline form assignment is basically a rough draft of your first five-page essay. The Essay Outline form cannot be turned in later than the first essay itself. The Essay Outline assignment is only due for the first essay; it is not required for the second essay. I will not accept an Essay Outline for the second essay, in lieu of turning one in for the first essay.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism and other forms of cheating are not permitted, and can result in receiving a 0 on the assignment, without the option to submit the assignment again, and additionally, any allowable penalty as explained in the student handbook or in accordance with AVUSD policy.

Participation

The participation grade will consist of some short readings (sometimes primary source), and a one-page response by the students that are done in class, referred to me as reflections. These are rather unstructured, and the idea here is simply to expose you to historical documents and ideas, and get you to think about them. At the end of the semester, I will average the grade for each reflection assignment, and that will constitute the participation portion of the final semester grade. The lowest reflection grade will be dropped and will not count against the overall grade.

Quizzes

I reserve the right to give short quizzes throughout the semester. These quizzes, if and when they are given, would be given at the beginning of class. Quizzes must be turned in when the instructor asks for them; they cannot be made up later on in that class period, nor on any other day. Once I am done passing out quizzes I will not pass any out later on in the class period, even if students come in late to that class. Any quizzes that are given out will be averaged in to the participation grade (as if they were reflections).

Late Work and Makeup Work Policy

The only assignments that can be turned in late are the essay outline, and the two five-page essays. Late work has to be turned in no later than seven days after the original due date and will be given 80 percent credit (that is, 80 percent of what the grade would have been, had it not been turned in late). This 80 percent credit policy will be implemented regardless of the reason for the assignment being late. The only exceptions to this one-week extension are any assignments that fall due the last week of class—no work can be turned later than the day of the final exam.

If a student is not present to take the midterm or final as scheduled, the exam can be taken with an AVHS proctor. The exams will probably be different from that taken in class, but it will still be based on the study guide.

Reflections (and quizzes) are based on class lectures and discussions and cannot be made up (or turned in before or after the assignment is done in class).

Extra Credit or Re-doing Assignments

Apart from the special instructions for emailing essays and writing out your exams, there is no extra credit offered; the only assignments that can be re-done are essays that are returned because of unacceptable subject choice, improper file format, or some other condition, at the discretion of the instructor. Sorry, but plagiarism or otherwise improper use of sources or other people's work doesn't constitute a reason for making up the assignment.

Out of consideration for the rest of the class, if you do come in late, please find a seat in the row closest to the door, so as to not disturb the instructor and the rest of the students. DO NOT WALK IN BETWEEN THE INSTRUCTOR AND THE STUDENTS.

Classroom Behavior

Being mean or inconsiderate (as defined by instructor) in class will make you liable to any penalty allowable under AVUSD policy and the Penal Code of the State of California, including but not limited to: academic penalties, imprisonment, fines, citations, and torture (up to but not including violations of the Eighth Amendment) to the fullest extent permitted by law.
